

---

installed, but where is the reservation manager??

Posted by drummerdave - 2008/05/06 10:43

---

i added new link to user menu:

menu item manager>new>TableBoss>Administration logged in as a registered user.

clicked the new link

the page url reads. ...index.php?option=com_tableboss&view=admin&Itemid=157

but... the view is same as public view(reservation wizard form). no admin view

how?

ok, I see the issue and why. I was still logged in to the backend as administrator. when I killed the admin session, then the front end shows the correct view. But when logged in as admin the front end shows the wrong view.

=====

Re:installed, but where is the reservation manager??

Posted by fabrizim - 2008/05/06 14:27

---

I'm not sure how the admin session was interfering with the frontend view. I think the proper resolution is to check the "Manager Level" setting in the "Reservation Wizard" tab of the configuration. If you would like managers to be at the Registered level, than you should set the dropdown to "Registered" and click save. If it is set to "Special", than only Administrators can view the Reservation Desk.

Let me know if this helps,
Best Regards-
Mark

=====